

School Readiness Resources

www.zerotothree.org

- ◆ Website has MULTIPLE resources and an “interactive” School Readiness component to learn more about activities for parents and professionals to support school readiness skills in children from Birth to Three; Published resources are available, many for free, and reproducible pamphlets for families are available to download and/or purchase.

www.earlyliteracylearning.org

- ◆ CELL (Center for Early Literacy Learning) has research projects and articles, summaries, and “Practice Activities” for families in handout format from infancy through preschool.

www.nde.state.ne.us/ech/ELGuidelines/ELG_IT.pdf

- ◆ State of Nebraska’s Early Learning Guidelines for Birth to Three provides examples of different activities and skills for children Birth to 18 months and 18 months to 36 months. Discusses what child might do, what adult would do to encourage skill/behavior, and environmental factors.

<http://tn.gov/education/ci/earlychildhood/>

- ◆ State of Tennessee’s Early Learning Developmental Standards for children Birth to Five. Provides examples of the “Learning Expectation” for a child of a certain age as well as examples skills/behaviors typical of a child at that age.

Learning to Read the World: Language and Literacy in the First Three Years, edited by Sharon E. Rosenkoetter and Joanne Knapp-Philo (ZERO TO THREE Press, 2006)