3. How do I change my login email or who do I contact if my login email has changed?

Please send your request with the old and new email address to DOH-MaternalHealth@doh.nm.gov.

4. How long is the application review and approval process?

Before NMDOH Maternal Health (MH) team can review the application, payment submitted for the application must be approved. The processing of application fees can take anywhere from 3 to 14 business days. After the payment is approved and the payment status shows as “complete,” the MH team can start the application review process.

The current system allows payments to be submitted prior to submitting the application. After submitting payment, please be sure to submit the application, and then make sure the application is at 100% status for NMDOH to receive for review. Both the payment and application must be submitted for NMDOH to start the review process.

Initial:

MH team has 30 days after the receipt of the initial application and payment confirmation to process the application.

Renewal:

An applicant for license renewal must be submitted to NMDOH electronically by the 5th day of the month of the expiration of the license. Failure to submit by the 5th will result in additional late fees.

NMDOH has until the last day of the month of the renewal to process all complete applications received by the 5th of the month. See question 5 regarding timeline for renewal review.

For late renewals (applications submitted after the 5th of the month), NMDOH has within 30 days of receipt of all required documents and payments to process late renewals. NMDOH will make every effort to not let a license lapse.

Reactivation:

A lapsed license occurs on the first day of the following month following the expiration date of the current license if the license is not renewed on time. The individual must apply for reactivation of the license, paying all added fees before being allowed to practice. A midwife may not work with a lapsed license or disciplinary action will be taken.

The requirements for reactivation of a license that has voluntarily lapsed in status or for an applicant that is returning to New Mexico are the same as those for license renewal except the applicant must pay the additional fee for reactivation.

5. When does NMDOH start reviewing Renewal Applications?

A renewal application is considered to be received timely when it is submitted by the 5th of the license expiration month. The NMDOH MH team starts reviewing timely submitted applications after the 5th of the expiration month. The NMDOH MH team has until the last day of the month to complete the renewal process.

10. What is the process for taking the LM Jurisprudence Exam?

New LM applicants must take and pass an online Jurisprudence Exam to be eligible for initial licensure. Proof of passing the NARM exam within one year or current CPM certification is required to sit for this exam.

Those who wish to take the exam should contact the NMDOH MH team at DOH-MaternalHealth@doh.nm.gov to request to be scheduled for the Midwife Training on Newborn Genetic and Hearing Screening. This training must be attended before an exam link will be sent. The training is usually held on the 3rd Wednesday of the month from 9am-10am.

Once the training is complete, an exam link for the online Jurisprudence Exam will be sent to the applicant. Please allow up to 10 business days for the exam to be graded and for a letter to be generated that can be used for initial licensure application. At this time, there is no fee to take the exam.
